COUPLE BONDIND PRACTICES & MEDITATION

Role of a couple

पति-पत्नी की भूमिका

THE RELATIONSHIP OF A COUPLE

- All other relationships are optional because they have other options (Eg: Mother, Father, Siblings)
- But if one partner isn't there then no one else can take that place
 - there is no option in the relation of a couple
- Even to become parents, being a couple is essential
- The 'seed' of all relations are in this and the character of this seeps in other relations as well
- If there is tension in this relation, every other relation is affected
- If this one relation improves, the whole world improves

Two souls come together
not to condemn, but to shower grace.
Not to complain, but to uplift.
Not to weaken, but to empower.
Not to fight, but to love unconditionally.
They meet not by chance, but with a divine purpose.
To awaken the best in one another.

Free from past holdings in your relationship

रिश्ते में पुराने बंधनों से मुक्ति

FROM COUPLE TO PARENTS

- When planning to become parents, one should wind up couple life
- Being parents is like a new birth, a new phase
- No holding from the past should be carried along
- If any infection from couple life is carried forward in parenthood then it troubles both parents and children
- Habits, misunderstandings, disagreements, difference in opinion, struggles - they would have happened in the past & they may still affect the person.

FROM COUPLE TO PARENTS

- All that which is suppressed within keeps mutating and that mutation is passed to the children
- This needs to be cleaned and the process of cleaning is Alochana
- Alochana is a kind of vaccine.
- If one carries the past and starts a new journey - then the impact of the past will affect the new in some way.

Couple Aalochana

- To free from past holdings in their life
- Couples to observe this journey mindfully in the session
- To be practised by them as long as they see holding in their relationship. (If they see their bond is disturbed ideally practise it for 27 days)

Blissful Couple to Graceful Parents

सुखी दंपति से आदर्श माता-पिता तक

- Blissful couple = graceful parents
- Being blissful means = blessing one another, being a gift for each other, looking at each other with kindness
- When you are god-like towards each other = you will be god-like for the child who is coming

मातृ देवो भव। पितृ देवो भव।

Matru Devo Bhava - Pitru Devo Bhava

If parents are divine
- their children too will be divine

WHY DO COUPLES FIGHT?

- MISMATCH IN THOUGHTS
- MISMATCH IN INTEREST
- MISMATCH IN PERCEPTION

THE ART OF TRANSFORMING THIS COMPLEXITY TO COMPASSION LIES IN THE PRACTISE OF SAMPUSTH MANGAL

Dirty Water

Clean Water

Water with different properties still merge into one

Similarly one glass has salt water and one has sugar water, will they merge when poured into one pot? or Will they fight?
Hot water and cold water will merge or will they resist and fight?
The property of water is to merge - they don't fight
Even if they are of opposite properties, they will still mix with each other

Take a piece of marble and break it into 2 halves - will they join back?

Marble with the same properties cannot be merged into one

Because it is a stone

REASON FOR FIGHTS IS NOT..

Fights happen
when relationships are like stones

Fights end
when relationships are like water

THE FOUR STATES OF MATTER

Solid can be turned liquid (Ice - Water), Liquid can be turned to solid (Water - Ice).

Every metal can be melted. In a Volcano even a stone melts.

When the relationships are like stone, if they melt, if they soften - then fights won't happen. They will become blissful

Also example of giving 'Jawan'

SAMPUSTH MANGAL

Nurture

Support

Develop

- 2 hands & 2 eyes, can shower - blessing as well as destruction
- Grace & anger both energy can flow from eyes
- The aim of Sampusth Mangal is that grace and love to flow from the hands of each partner to the other

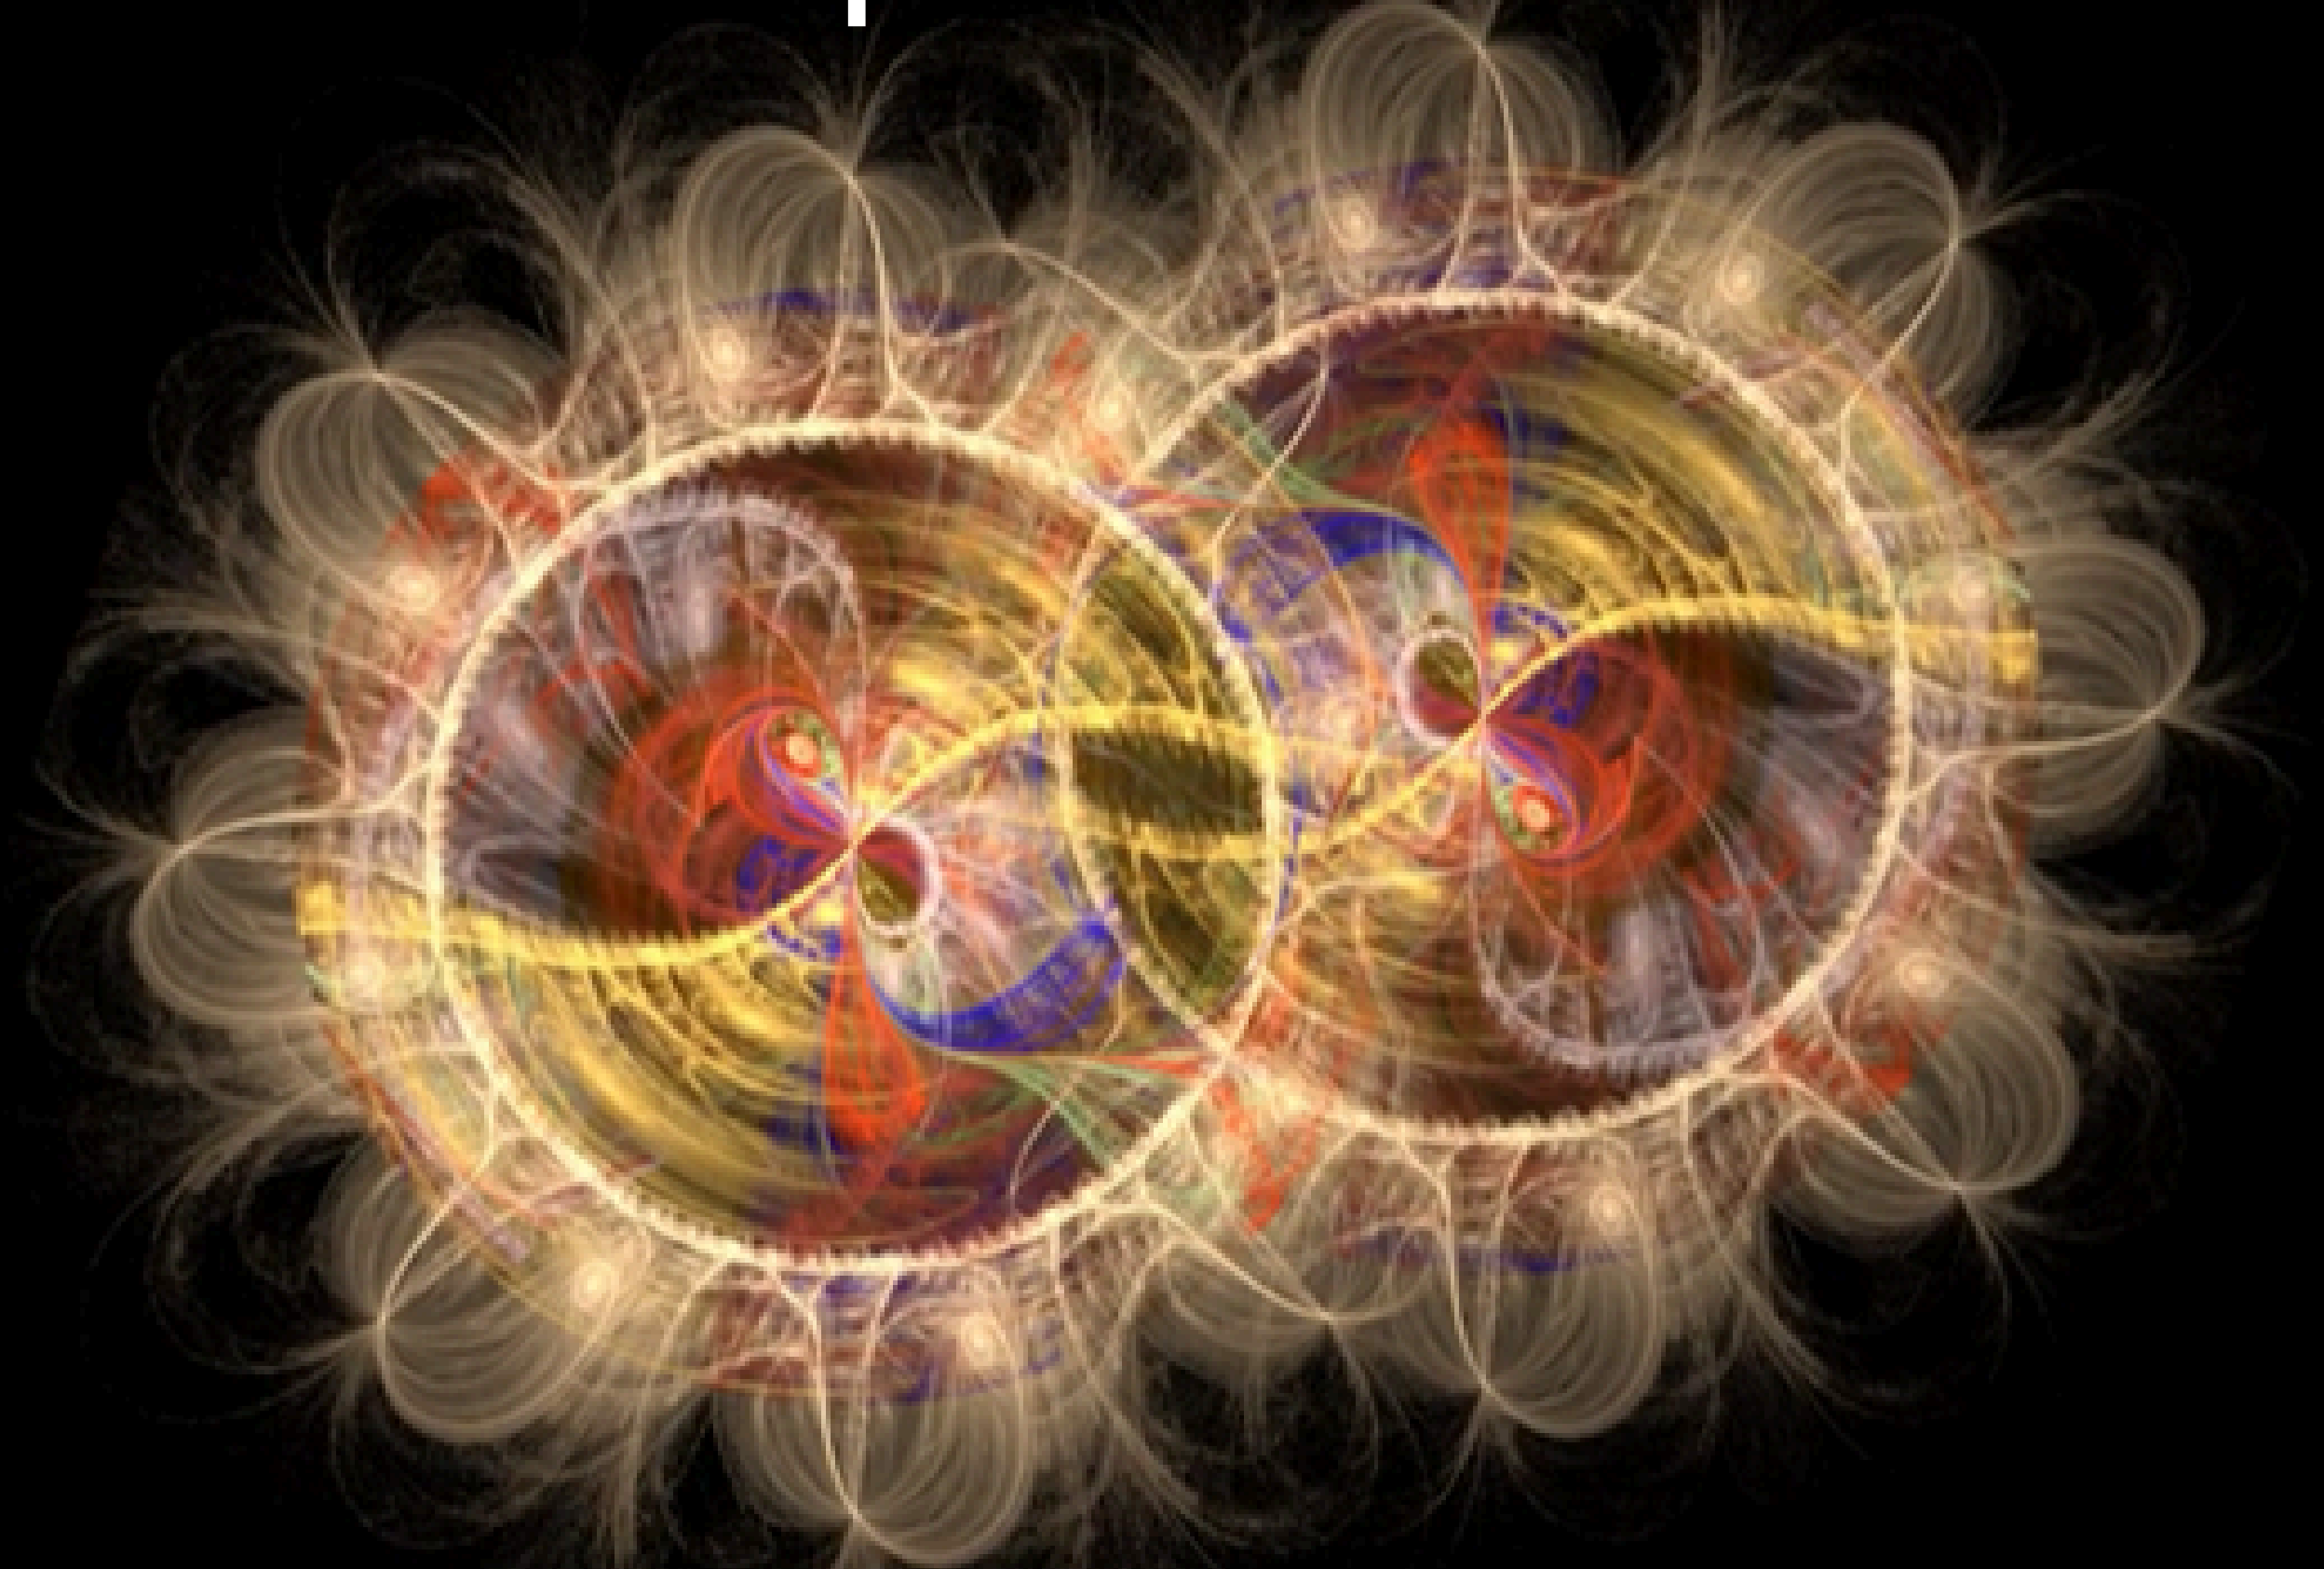

Results of the Sampusht Sadhana

- Your energy pattern will change and match with each other.
- Relation of co-operation and goodwill will be formed.
- There will be dialogues and no arguments between each other
- Only affection and no allegations.
- Will give strength to understand rather than making understand.
- Will transform you into supporter, helper.

When energy field matches , everything else also matches together.

It's the disconnect in energy that is the root cause to all misunderstandings

Sampusht Sadhana

A silent communication between two souls.

Step 1 : Take Āgya (Permission)

Step 2 : Hand Cleansing

Step 3:
Developing energy
(Vertical rotation)

Step 4: Developing energy (Horizontal rotation)

That both front and back of the hands become energetic

Step 5 : Expand your energy

Step 6:
Connect with the divine

Step 7:
Form Sampusht &
Transfer energy

Now, bring them exactly at eye level

Step 8:
Transfer energy

Chant 3 Navkar
While looking at the throat,

Step 9: Other partner transfers energy

Does the same, looking at the first partner's throat

Step 10: Bow down in Gratitude

Important notes for avoiding mistakes

- Keep your fingers together, without spreading them apart.
- Cleanse your hands by moving them at a 90-degree angle, and become aware of the energy being purified.
- When forming the sampusht with your hands, look through the natural opening using both eyes, focusing on your partner's throat.
- Maintain about a one-hand distance between your eyes and the sampusht for clear visibility — do not bring it too close.
- Observe only through the natural gap created by your hands. Avoid widening the gap or opening the cupped shape of your hands.

Science of Sampusht Sadhna

- As the energy transfers, you may feel a slight warmth in your hands – this is the very energy that will reach your partner's throat to be received.
- Near the throat lies the thyroid gland, which plays a vital role in regulating moods and emotions.
- The thyroid then communicates with the pineal gland, which produces melatonin – a hormone that governs our body's natural rhythm and daily activity cycle.

With dedicated practice over six months, words will no longer be necessary.

Your partner will naturally feel and understand what's stirring in your heart, even in silence.

Do's and Dont's

क्या करें और न करें

Never complaint - Be it a situation or a person

- Never complain against yourself, anyone else, or any situation.
- (Example of Dhritrashta and Gandhari's complaining attitude was developed in Kaurava's).

Be a Bravo - Never cry

The mother of Chhatrapati never cried,

- A feeling of helplessness and hopelessness often leads to tears — and these very emotions are absorbed by the new life growing inside the womb.
- Tears may bring sympathy, but never respect, strength, or victory.
- History teaches us this through the example of Jijabai, whose resilience and determination shaped Shivaji into a great leader.
- Crying is a sign of surrender, of giving up.
- it is vital for husbands to support and care for their wives during pregnancy, protecting them from reaching a point where tears take over — so that the child inherits strength, not sorrow.

Appreciate each other

- Appreciation creates affection and attraction.
- Love fades without appreciation.
- Appreciate, to maintain the positivity in life.

Practise celibacy post conception

- Once you become parents, life as a husband and wife takes a backseat.
- For the nine months of pregnancy, the mother's role is solely that of a mother, and the father's role is solely that of a father – not as a couple.
- According to Jain science, when parents engage in sexual activity during pregnancy, their desires and tendencies can imprint upon the child in the womb, shaping the child's future inclinations.
- Even in the animal kingdom, no male engages in physical relations with a pregnant female, nor does he allow it. If animals have this natural understanding, we, as humans, must rise above and uphold a higher standard, not lower ourselves beneath them.
